Ch If you don't have a relationship with a child yet, it is now time to get one. Thus, welcome to a brand new guide of the handbook, a guide that will thoroughly teach you how to find yourself a child for friendship, romance and sex.

Sex There are so many children in this world, and there are so many ways to find them and get in touch with them, so this is actually much easier than most newcomers think.

This is the story of my first sexual relationship with a baby. (if you consider a 2 yo as a baby)
NOTE: for safety I had to leave out some V. interesting stuff-sorry.
This account is about the girls that I used as examples in my sex guide

THE TWO METHODS FOR STRETCHING THE HUMAN BODY

- INTRODUCTION
- SUCK MY DICK
- TIMETABLE
- DEEP THROAT
- THE BUILD UP
- THE GOOD BIT
- HEART AND MIND
- MORE CLEARLY

Safely meet pedos in real life

This article proposes a solution for the dilemma of pedophiles seeking to meet other pedophiles in real life given the existence of sting operations. For the purpose of this article the following is assumed:

Your Own Pedo Site

This page covers the specific concerns associated with running your own pedo .onion site.

These notes were written in reference to, and are intended to be read alongside, the notes on hosting a TOR hidden service at torproject.org.

In particular, it is assumed that you already know how to read manual pages and config files, and configure your own software. It's assumed you know how to tie down your OS and apps: these are mostly beyond the scope of this article.

How to Get a Pedo Wife

The whole discussion is about getting boys in a sports team into a sexual relationship. The boys are there to participate in their chosen sport and to form a relationship would be difficult with the number of adults that attend training sessions it seems coaches have assistants and the assistants have assistants these days. Persuasion rather than coercion would be difficult as parents are usually watching the younger boys train and anyone wishing to assist the coach or volunteer to help out the team would need a police check and would be under direct supervision of the coach, getting a boy alone would be difficult without some parent or adult wanting to know what was going on. If you want to coach then you need to know your stuff otherwise it will be 'thanks for your offer, but no thanks'. With the way sport is controlled these days and the push to keep kids safe from 'sexual predators', it is my advice to look elsewhere.

Meeting kids in other parts of the world
« on: 01 November, 2017, 01:16:56 »

Hi buddies,

I live in the West, and seeking the company of young boys is no easy thing here, nor something you can speak frankly about with your friends and family. From my experience at least. I intend to move to a friendlier place and so I'm looking for advice from you guys who already experienced it.

Once in this place, how have you managed to meet these kids? Did you just go right at them out in the streets to be able to befriend them? Did you have to speak with their parents first? How easy was it to invite them home and tighten your relationship?

I intend to overplay my tourist situation to make them curious so they may start to talk to me, thus leading to good friendship. But I'm curious to hear what you guys have done in such unfamiliar places to easily get in touch with youngsters.

Thanks 😊

Finding practicing single fathers in the wild...
« on: 24 January, 2017, 22:06:22 »

It's been my dream to join a father and his little girl. Not just in the bedroom, but with life in general. My question is, how do I go about finding one? Are there signs I should look for?

I've talked with a few fathers in the past, but we of course kept things anonymous. A couple times I contemplated moving to be with them. (Mind you these are gentlemen I've spoken to over the course of months before we lost contact with each other). I know there are some everywhere, but finding them and bringing this up is no easy task...

Has anyone been with someone who was also like minded? How did you meet? How did you discover that you both have this interest?

Victim Awareness

1. Victims are NOT ALWAYS aware that they are victims...
2. Perpetrator may also act covertly....

'Cappers'

(secretly recorded content):

- Recording of sexual acts performed by victim (sexting, grooming, hacking, etc)
- Examples: screenshot, screen recording
- Victim is not told that images are being recorded = unaware

Objective:

- Capture images
- Build up a collection
- Use collection:
 - Personal use
 - Exchange with online community

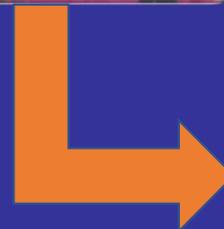

Experience shared online:

- Exchanging tips & tricks on online forums
- Compiling manuals
- Use of "decoy videos" - How to make victims believe they are chatting with a 'friend'

Perpetrator MOs

1. Even (years) after the sexual abuse, paedo-sexual perpetrators keep looking for victims
 - Searching for press articles,
 - Social media screening,
 - Screening of instant messaging platforms
2. This results in continuous victimisation!!
